LONDONDERRY FESTIVAL

• Dates of Organizations:

🔲 Come to Derry to see the most unique Halloween festival on the planet

✛   Coming to Derry during the Halloween season, you will be with your friends and relatives dressed up and walking the streets, watching the parades around the street and even the spectacular fireworks display on the banks of the Foyle River.

● Festival Details:

The origins of Halloween go back more than 2,000 years with the Celtic festival in the Samhain region. Traditionally, during the festive season, the ghosts of the dead will return to Earth and die on November 1.

Since Derry is a city specializing in the production of garments, the people in this city have very professional makeup and costume production skills. The festival in Derry is started by local communities, where people will dress up and wear devil-themed clothes.

In 1986, the city council began meeting and came to an agreement to organize a Halloween festival. At that time, there was only one stage set up in Guildhall Square, with a small band, no parade. However, after many years, the Halloween festival in Derry has expanded in scale and is one of the biggest and most attractive festivals in this Halloween season.

Coming to Derry, you will admire the wonderful fireworks display on the banks of the Foyle River. Coming here, you will be really surprised with the creativity of the people. Instead of searching for Halloween costumes available in the store, they will make their own costumes and dress up in the most unique way.

Arriving in Derry, visitors can watch fireworks and a Jack-o'-lantern pumpkin race. This year, the Halloween festival featured the theme 'Under the Moonlight Samhain'. A giant moon will be on display at Guildhall Square.

Of course, Halloween isn't just for kids, it's also for fans of horror stories. The Halloween festival here also has stalls for vegetarians, performances for music lovers. The city's Playhouse will perform plays that tell ghost stories to audiences.
